Let's talk more about your day!

Bonjour et bienvenue, hi and welcome. My name is Rebecca, I'm a documentary photographer based in South-West France. My approach allows your day to evolve naturally, without interruptions, and for you to be able to stay in and enjoy every moment.

I capture the moments that make you laugh till your cheeks hurt and make your heart beat faster. I want to photograph the things that make you who you are, the things that make your love unique. There are only so many angles and poses and pretty locations, and they've all been done before - but what makes a photo special is the memories attached to it. The real ones.

BIENVENUE,

Your wedding day will be absolutely bursting with love, emotion, tenderness. The small moments and the big ones, all absolutely beautiful. I strongly believe there is no need to pose any of it.

I am drawn to this style of photography - the natural, the unposed, the real - because these are the photos we sit down to look at again and again.

Planning a wedding means countless decisions, including choosing a photographer. After reading this guide you'll either eagerly anticipate me capturing your day, or confidently realise we're not the perfect match. (Though I prefer the former!)

The most important relationship here is the one between you and your partner, but ours is essential too, we have to get it right.

A documentary approach allows the moments to evolve naturally. I'll never interrupt or ask you to smile at the camera.

JUST IN CASE YOU'RE WONDERING,

WHY CHOOSE ME?

Embracing a documentary style, my approach is observant and discreet. Put simply, I document each wedding while allowing you to completely enjoy what will no doubt be one of the most important days in your whole life.

I aim to tell a story that authentically traces your beautiful day, from the smallest moments to the biggest ones.

When you look at your photographs I want you to be taken back in time to a feeling of connection, and be able to live it again.

Delivering for my couples is my top priority. You'll receive my full attention, including in-person meetings, thorough location scouting, and detailed planning to ensure everything runs smoothly. I do everything I can to make your wedding photography experience seamless and unforgettable (in the best way!)
